Veranda Club News.
The meeting of the Veranda Club was held Thursday afternoon, Sept. 23, at the home of the president, Mrs. Alton Curtis. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all present. At the business meeting the club voted to hold assemblies the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, the date of the first one to be announced later. Refreshments consisting of cake, fruit and lemonade was served by the hostess.

Just How Much Rain Fell.
George Brooks says there was 4 1/2 inches of rain fell in the last storm. The last day of May and the first day of June, 1895, there was a rain-fall of 4 1/2 inches.

Col. and Mrs. A. J. Stearns attended the party reception at Portland.

Mrs. George D. Swift was in Portland and Lewiston, last week, returning home Saturday.

Rev. Merrill C. Ward will preach at the Yagge school house next Sunday, at 10:30 a. m.

The Universalist church meeting will be held with Mrs. M. A. Oxnard tonight (Thursday).

Wm. C. Leavitt is raising some lovely carnation plants in his garden. They are at their best now.

Myrtle Blackwood will have charge of the program of the Friday reception and social of the Christian Endeavor society. The doctors in the two villages attended the Oxford County Medical Association meeting at Cobb's hotel, Mechanic Falls.

It is hoped Mrs. Freeland Howe will be able to return from the St. Barnabas hospital at Portland the last of the week.

W. F. Senter of Brunswick, has recovered from his recent illness, and is in Norway to look after the Abbott block that he now owns.

Charles T. Francis, who is overseas in the wearing room at Boston, has become so homesick as to send for a copy of the Norway Advertiser.

It is reported that Gilbert Upton of Talar, Calif., recently fell from a load of alfalfa and was badly injured. Mr. Upton formerly lived on Upton Ridge in this town, having gone to California some 20 odd years ago.

At the annual meeting of Oxford Lodge, No. 18, F. & A. M., the following officers were elected:
W. M. - George L. Proctor.
P. M. - Walter L. Smith.
W. Sec. - L. Curtis.
W. Treas. - L. Smith.
Arthur Hubbard was taken suddenly ill Monday forenoon. He was taken to the hospital and an operation performed. It was found that the appendix was so badly diseased that he probably would not live 12 hours if the operation had been delayed that length of time.

Mrs. Susan P. Kelley, who is 76 years old, has completed her sixth quilt. The quilts are all very handsome but the last one is the handsomest one she has ever made. It is all embroidered, lined with silk and is trimmed with lace. Mrs. Kelley's quilts usually take a prize at the fair and this quilt took a prize also.

A. J. Hill, bricklayer, plasterer and contractor, has recently returned from West Paris where he has erected an 80x100 ft. two-story building for the West Paris Grange. This building was made out of cement blocks and is a good looking one. Saturday he went to Bemis to work for C. B. Cummings & Sons, on mason work.

Leon Yeaton, manager of Central Park, says they are fitting up and putting it into shape with the intention of having an entertainment at the park during the winter months. The building is being sheathed with two large stones and is to be put in and if it cannot be kept warm in this way a steam plant will be put in. Mr. Yeaton has retained the tenement over William C. Leavitt's store, and is to set up in house keeping shortly.

The concert given last Friday evening, under the auspices of the graduating class of the Norway high school, was highly attended but the concert was of high order. The mainly appearance of the young men and courteous bearing won them friends immediately. Their selections were excellent and well rendered. The interpretation, phrasing and voice showed careful training. Their voices were well balanced. The solos were well rendered and received hearty encore. The quality of the concert deserved a much larger audience.

Last Sunday was Rally day at the Universalist church and Sunday School. The pastor preached on the duty of rallying to attain the aim of the church, and especially upon the failure of the Sunday school to promote this aim. The Sunday school session was largely attended. The Sunday school orchestra rendered selections. The pastor conducted the lesson exercise for the school. Richard Stiles read an essay on Peter and Paul. A stirring practical talk on the value of the Bible school as a school of character was given by Chas. S. Akers, who spoke from his experience in the business world and from 37 years experience in the study and work of this Sunday school.

James T. Boutwell and wife are to return to Whitefield, N. H., their old home, after an absence of about three or four years. Mr. Boutwell worked for George O. Robinson at East Oxford some seventeen months, and came to this village about two years ago and has worked for the Novelty Turning Co. He has been living in the Diamond Hamilton House at Steep Falls.

There will be a moonlight dance at Central Park, Tuesday evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. There will be three reels of pictures shown and two illustrated songs, with entire change of pictures Monday, Wednesday and Friday. There will also be dancing the evenings of Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Concerts are given at the Casino, consisting of a seven piece orchestra.

The funeral of George E. Tubbs, late treasurer of the Norway Savings bank, was held at his Paris street residence at one o'clock in the afternoon last Saturday and was largely attended. Several people coming from Gorham and vicinity. It was held thus early to allow these people to return on the up train. During the hour of the funeral, the business places in the village were closed. The number of flowers showed marked expression of sympathy extended on this occasion. The trustees of the Savings Bank were bearers.

From the railroad commissioners' report we glean: Norway & Paris Street Railroad—Gross earnings from operation, $97,775.23 against $10,101.46 last year, a decrease of $926.23; operating expenses, $7,104.09; net earnings from operation, $2,670.54; interest on funded debt, $4,820; surplus at the close of the year, $13,092.55; passenger car earnings, $8,975.50; maintenance of way and structures, $2,191.32; operation of power plant, $243.25; operation of cars, $5,820.22; general expenses, $1,124.45; passenger car mileage, $3,118; passenger car hours, 5,090; fare passengers carried, 176,510; aggregate amount of salaries and wages paid, $3,855.58.

OCTOBER 1, 1909, NORWAY, MAINE.

W. C. T. U. Teachers' Convention.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its fourth annual Teachers' Reception, Wednesday evening, Sept. 29. This reception is a very pleasing event and valuable in that it gives the parents and friends of the school a chance to become acquainted with the teachers. The hall was prettily decorated with cut flowers and autumn leaves, with huge bunches of hydrangea.

The receiving line was headed by our new superintendent, Mr. Felch, and his wife. Next came the high school teachers, and then the grade school-ma'ams, and a long and imposing line they made. The guests were presented to the receiving line by young men and maidens of the Senior class of the High school, who acted as ushers.

The program was especially fine. Mrs. Edith Bartlett read two excellent selections and Sue Wheeler and Sara Washburn sang pleasing solos. Then came the speeches which were full of good thoughts.

Rev. Mr. Riddick spoke of the home influence of our pupils. He said that though the teachers can do much in moulding a child's character, they can do very much if backed up by a good, wholesome, clean home influence. The home and the school should work together and in sympathy if the best results for the child are to be obtained.

Rev. M. C. Ward spoke of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union as a splendid organization, calling it "organized mother love." He said that the Union is doing a splendid work in bringing the home, the school, and the church together in such pleasant gatherings as the Teachers' Reception are proving to be. He spoke of the good that this grand temperance organization is doing over the whole civilized world, and said that temperance must be taught our children if they are to make good citizens.

Superintendent Felch spoke very earnestly of the good that may be done in helping along our boys and girls to obtain an education. He urged the teachers to strive to develop the gem that is often hidden in the rough exterior of the pupil. Truly Mr. Felch is the friend of the boys and girls, and will do all in his power to lead our young people to become splendid men and women.

Herman Horne represented the school board, and spoke very appreciatively of the high grade of work done by our teachers, stating that they are underpaid and ought to receive higher wages. Refreshments of delicious fruit lemonade and fancy crackers were served by the Mattie Cummings and Mrs. Alice Stearns, assisted by the Senior girls.

The rest of the evening was spent socially, the guests remaining till a late hour, and reluctantly departing from one of the most pleasant occasions of the year.

Camp Fire at Bethel.
Harry Rost Post and W. R. C. of Norway, W. K. Kimball Post and Ladies of the G. A. R. of South Paris were guests of Brown Post of Bethel, Wednesday. About thirty-five members went from the two lodges. G. A. R. Posts and W. R. C. from Oxford and Rumford were also invited.

The scenery over the Grand Trunk was beautiful and inspiring and we were welcomed at Bethel by Commander True who accompanied us to march through the town before going to the hall. "Because I wish to show the company off, I am so proud of you," he said.

The patriotic citizens had decorated houses and stores with flags and bunting and we were given a cordial welcome at the large G. A. R. Hall. Walks and auto rides about the picturesque town were enjoyed and at "twelve sharp" all sat down to a bountiful repast, after which a pleasing program of music and song was given in the beautiful and tasteful G. A. R. Hall.

Opening ode—American Hymn—Chorus Prayer—Rev. J. H. Little.
Words of welcome—Mrs. Banghart.
Words of welcome—Rev. W. R. C. Words of welcome—Rev. W. R. C. Song—Star Spangled Banner—Chorus Reading—"The Little Bronze Button"—Chorus.
Speeches by comrades and ladies of the Corps.
Speech—Mrs. W. H. Sten.
Song—Marching Through Georgia—Chorus.
Ladies' words by Mrs. Little.
Closing hymn—America—Chorus.
Benediction—Rev. J. H. Little.

F. A. Shurtleff Dead.

The death of F. A. Shurtleff occurred early Thursday afternoon, Sept. 29, after a brief illness following an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Shurtleff was taken ill Sunday while at church. He was removed home and grew worse. His condition was such Monday that it was thought best not to move him and Dr. John Thompson of Portland came in an automobile Tuesday and performed the operation. All day Wednesday Mr. Shurtleff's condition was considered critical.

Mr. Shurtleff was the son of Alonzo E. and Hannah Louise (Tribou) Shurtleff and was born July 23, 1833. He has two sisters, Emma A. Shurtleff and Idella M. Shurtleff, and a brother, Arthur K. Shurtleff of South Paris.

At the age of 5 he began attending school in what was then known as the Brick School House, W. H. Bolster being the teacher. He continued attending the village schools until 1878, Professor R. J. Everett being at that time principal of the high school.

He was born in Portland and until he was five years of age he lived there. Since then South Paris has been his home.

On leaving school at the age of 15 he entered the employ of A. M. Gerry, the druggist and chemist, with him until 1882. From that time until 1887 he was clerk in the drug store of A. S. Hinds in Portland, and while there became a registered pharmacist.

In 1887 he returned to South Paris and started the drug business for himself. Jan. 1st, 1890 he took into partnership Charles H. Howard and the business was continued under the name of F. A. Shurtleff & Co. In February, 1906, the business was incorporated with Mr. Shurtleff as president and treasurer, Mr. Howard vice president and A. L. Clark clerk. A drug store has also been run some time at West Paris and during the summer at Paris Hill, and the past summer one at Old Orchard.

Mr. Shurtleff has been prominent in the business affairs of the town and village. He has been treasurer of the village corporation since 1890, and treasurer of the town since 1893. He was a director of the Paris Trust Company and had been president of the Board of Trade. He had been treasurer of the Mt. Mica Building Association since 1905; was financial secretary of the Durell Hill Cemetery Association; collector for the Norway Water Co. and a number of insurance companies.

Mr. Shurtleff had been an active member of the Congregational church for nineteen years, and treasurer and clerk of the church fourteen years.

He was a member of Mt. Mica Lodge of Odd Fellows, Aurora Encampment, Mt. Pleasant Rebekah Lodge and Hamlin Lodge, Knights of Pythias. In politics he was a Republican.

Mr. Shurtleff married Laura Clifford, daughter of Charles H. Clifford, Oct. 19, 1859, and had one son Stanley, born Nov. 16, 1891. On June 20, 1897, he married Mary Frances Parsons, daughter of Deacon Stephen Robinson Parsons, who survives him.

His son, Stanley, is now a clerk for F. A. Shurtleff & Co.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church at 2 o'clock, Sunday, in charge of Mount Mica Lodge, I. O. O. F., with Hamlin Lodge, K. of P. acting as escort. There was a large attendance of the members of both orders, and a congregation which filled the church.

A male quartette rendered appropriate music.

The bearers were N. D. Bolster, Franklin Maxim, E. N. Haskell, Nelson G. Elder, Walter L. Bonney and George R. Morton.

A great quantity of beautiful flowers were arranged about and above the casket. Rev. A. T. McWhorter spoke appropriately from the two texts: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace," and "And they went and told issue." Following this was the funeral service of the order by the Odd Fellows. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

Myrtle Buck spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in West Sumner.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Penfold and daughter, are visiting relatives in North Waterford.

Edith Brown, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Alice Thayer, has returned to her home in Chicago.

The fair held by the ladies of the G. A. R. last Thursday was well attended and a goodly sum realized.

Charles Prescott is to move his family to Livermore Falls, where he has been employed for some time.

Mrs. L. G. Whitten and two children of West Bethel spent last week as the guests of her brother, H. W. Dennison.

Stanley M. Wheeler has returned to the University of Maine, where he has two more years to complete the course.

A special town meeting will be held, Monday afternoon, Oct. 4 at 2 o'clock, to choose a town treasurer to succeed the late Frank A. Shurtleff.

Mary H. Taylor is spending a few days with relatives near her return to Boston. Miss Taylor has recently returned from a three months' trip abroad.

Eight of Grace Dean's girl friends gave her a very pleasant surprise party at her home on Western avenue Saturday evening. They brought refreshments and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

The new organ which is to be installed at the Baptist church is expected to arrive sometime the last of October. After it is installed an organ recital will be given by one of Estey Co.'s organists.

Both European and Seneca clubs will hold their opening sessions of the fall on the night of Oct. 12, when Mrs. Chas. Briggs will be hostess of the European meeting and Mrs. Frank Taylor will entertain the Senecas.

A harvest supper was given Tuesday evening by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church at their vestry, and in the evening there was a musical entertainment with readings by Mrs. Harriett F. Marble of Gorham, N. H.

The winter schedule on the Grand Trunk went into effect on Sunday. Times of trains going east are 5:30 and 9:50 a. m. and 4:05 p. m.; going west, 9:50 a. m. and 5:35 and 9:45 p. m. The Sunday excursion train to Portland is discontinued. The Sunday excursion train to Berlin will run through October on the same time as all summer.

They Didn't Have to Change.
 During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.

The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.

It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that every one needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.

The Quaker Oats Company meets all demands in the way it packs Quaker Oats; regular size packages and the large size family package; the latter both with and without china.

How White Mts. were Named.

We who live in sight of the White Mountains will be glad to read how these mountains got their names—a question we have often asked ourselves. R. C. Danham tells the following in the Coo's Democrat:

While approaching Groveton in a railway train a few years ago, the writer heard a conversation between two men, regarding the heights commonly known as the Perry Peaks, and which one of the disputants insisted were the "Starb" Peaks; the question being referred to the passenger in the next seat, a farmer, he answered that they were the "Starb" Peaks. The three were left in the train arguing the subject; and all were right, because these striking mountains have borne all three appellations.

They are generally known today as the "Perry Peaks," though it is difficult to determine by any other person to these features. He was acquainted with all the pioneers, and for many years resided in Hart's Location.

One prolific source for names has been the work of chance visitors, who have applied those that have been preserved by usage among guides, thus becoming known to other visitors and the local inhabitants.

Considering the haphazard manner in which the members of the grand White Mountain family have been christened, perhaps they have not suffered to a greater extent than other groups on the continent. Like Topsy, many of them seem to have simply "growned," and become engrained on noble peaks before any one was mindful that good taste would be violated.

Of all the names that distinguish the principal peaks, those of local Indian origin bear the palm for pleasing euphony as well as appropriateness. They are even better than their imported brethren, Teanumseh, Oseola, etc., in the vicinity of North Woodstock.

Where is there a more happily named group than these aboriginal titles have by some in the Sandwich Range—Ochooos, Passaconaway, Panguis, Wona-lancee? It is a pity they gave out before they reached Whiteface, Tripityramid, and the Sandwich Dome.

Lincoln and Garfield are honored with names, but that is no reason why every President should be thus commemorated. Garfield was formerly "Haystack" (there are still plenty of Haystacks all around), and where a change of name would be an improvement, such action might fill a long file in preventing confusion.

Soon after President McKinley died, there was a proposition to change the name of Mount Pleasant in the Presidential Range to Mount McKinley, but it was abandoned. Mount Pleasant has been known and pointed out to visitors for three generations. A principal hotel bears its name, which, as we have seen, was given to it simultaneously with those applied to others of its neighbors. If any one has the privilege of bestowing names, it belongs by right to first visitors.

The round mountain in Kilkenny is called Mount Willard from Jonathan Willard, who came here some 150 years ago. The other Mount Willard near Bretton Woods, as before stated, was named for Clerk Willard of Boston. Near Groveton an abrupt hill is called Cape Horn, and another Cape Horn overlooks the road near the Halfway House on the side of Mount Washington. Colebrook has a Mount Monadnock, which does not detract from the glory of the great mountain of the same name further south.

There was a Gulf of Mexico between Mount Washington and the Northern Peaks until the Appalachians christened it the Great Gulf; but after a score of years the old name sticks to the brains of many.

LaCaster boasts of a Mount Pleasant, like the Presidential Range. Last but not least, we have a genuine Bunker Hill, quite as big as that in Charlestown, and with a full supply of the Spirit of '76 on and around it.

There are still mountains in plenty to be named, and there will be the same lack of system in naming them in the future as in the past. If you ask, "What's in a name?" We answer, a good deal, when unnecessary duplication leads to confusion.

At a country fair out in Kansas a man went up to a tent where some elk were on exhibition and stared wistfully up at the sign. "I'd like to go in there," he said to the keeper, "but it would be mean to go in without your family, and I can't afford to pay for my wife and 17 children." The keeper stared in astonishment. "Are all those your children," he gasped. "Every one," said the man. "You wait a minute," said the keeper. "I'm going to bring the elk out and let them see you."

WHAT IS HYOMEL?
 You Have heard About the Catarrh Cure Noyes Drug Store Guarantees.

Hyomel is a wonderful antiseptic, so powerful that it promptly destroys germ life, yet its action on the mucous membrane is extremely soothing and healing. It relieves catarrh in five minutes; it cures in a few weeks or money back.

It is made chiefly of eucalyptus and eucalyptol taken from the eucalyptus forests of Australia. The medical profession knows that eucalyptus is an absolute certain germ destroyer and with the active principles of eucalyptus as a base Hyomel is made more efficient.

pleasant and quick acting by the addition of Thymol, an antiseptic and disinfectant largely employed in the Listerian System. Gualacal and other important medicinal agents are also included in the Hyomel formula, which, without doubt, is the greatest destroyer of catarrh germs the world has ever known.

Hyomel is a powerful, penetrating antiseptic that is pleasant to use. It does not contain a particle of cocaine, opium or any habit-forming or injurious drug. No dosing the system with the Hyomel. Just breathe it in through the nasal inhaler that comes with each outfit. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Norway by Noyes Drug Store. $1.00 for complete outfit. 38-40

Best Way to Tie Cattle.

A much discussed question throughout dairy sections is the most suitable method of tying cattle in stables, and the general health and condition of as well as profit from, the herd depend largely upon the method adopted. A recent writer in the Agricultural Epitomist discusses the question in the following manner.

The question of suitable means of fastening or confining cows in their winter quarters is one that should receive consideration, for on the physical comfort of the cow much depends. Not only will she yield more milk if she can stand in a natural position and lie down and get up with ease, but dangers from straining can thus be avoided which have been known in some cases to lead to abortion.

After citing instances in his own experience to prove the ill effects of fixed stanchions, such as injuries to individual cows and shortage of milk flow from the entire herd, he continues, "It may not always be practicable to build individual stalls but some arrangement can be devised which will keep each cow where she belongs and yet allow freedom of motion."

There are certain so-called swinging stanchions which admit of considerable freedom of the head and also provide for movement backward and forward as the cow lies down and gets up. Stanchions of this type are in use in the stables of many of our leading dairymen who have studied the question of animal comfort and claim for these stanchions as favorable results in milk production and gain in weight as can be secured in any other method. But it must be admitted that the use of a chain tie or rope about the neck is the ideal method of confining cattle, provided there is sufficient room.

The public school officials all over this country are beginning to think seriously of the institution of a domestic science department in the schools and well they might be, for the recent report of a New York educational society states that only one out of every hundred scholars in the grammar and high schools know how to make a cake or a loaf of bread.

In answer to thirty queries as to their housekeeping, since that period, musical and literary education has supplanted housekeeping.

While we do not essay to disparage the musical and literary attainments of our scholars, we believe that there is more attention paid to them than there should be. If a girl spends an hour practicing on a piano, she should spend two on preparing herself for her general destiny—housekeeping.

While domestic science should be in the school curriculum, the home is the real place to begin the instruction. Mothers should begin to teach their girls in the art just as soon as they are old enough to understand.

One of the best institutions in Rumford at the present time is the sewing circle. The ladies who are the leaders should receive liberal financial aid from the people. They are carrying on a work that will be the means of saving many a girl from poverty in the future.

Holm's Plant, of Denmark, has bought the Millard Martin place at Mechanic Falls on the Mt. Hanger road, and moved into it last week.

Should Blood Tell?

I see in the items of the Advertiser, in the premium list, where a highly bred, thoroughbred was turned down this year at the fair and an inferior bred one won of the blue ribbon. It is rather poor encouragement for those who are putting large sums of money into pure bred sires for the improvement of stock. We have looked upon the Agricultural Society as being a body of men who are trying to improve their stock. It does not look like help in this case. When a committee make such a decision as that without investigating, it looks as though there was something that was not right. I believe in better stock, and if we have it we have got to breed for it. Our country is full of cheap bred sires that are no improvement to our stock.

FRYEBURG.

New Masonic House.
Pythagorean Lodge of Masons, which observed its hundredth anniversary a few years ago, on the 27th celebrated the opening of its new hall and new hall degrees for the first time in quarters of its own. Dr. Seth C. Gordon of Portland, past grand commander of Maine, came up especially for the evening and was the chief speaker. Other speakers were J. A. Farrington of Lovell, ex-district deputy; Fred W. Powers of Fryeburg, still a member of this lodge; D. A. Ballard, county commissioner; Seth F. Heald of Lovell.

Oysters, coffee and all kinds of pastry were served, the new dining room and equipment being used for the first time. This lodge will have a ladies' night soon, in celebration of the completion of the hall.

Meetings have been held in it for many years, but it was always rented until by the will of A. R. Johnson, a wealthy resident of Fryeburg, this lot and building were turned over to Pythagorean lodge.

For several months the repairs have been in progress. The color scheme in red was worked out harmoniously. The furniture was made especially for the lodge and the upholstery, carpet and frescoing are very attractive. The new room has been enlarged and a new entrance arranged. The banquet hall, as well as the lodge room, has been remodeled, the total cost of repairs to date being over $200. A sewer is yet to be entered and other work done.

Fryeburg people are especially interested in Peary's exploits at the far North, because, after he was graduated from Bowdoin college he spent several years in this lovely mountain village with his mother, Madam Peary. Madam Peary was a sister of Mrs. Martha Nuttall who used to own the grove, later known as Martha's grove, headquarters for the Methodist campmeetings and Chautauqua assemblies.

Lovers of good horse flesh never pass by the bay gelding owned by Wallace T. Tarbox of Fryeburg without a second glance. This is a Kentucky thoroughbred one of the famous pair once owned by Anna Held and valued at $8000, which took the blue ribbon for matched fancy pairs in two different seasons at the New York horse show. After the horses passed out of Anna's possession on died. The other one was sold soon after to Mr. Tarbox. The horse still bears the name applied to him by Miss Held, Adriaens, the name of the now dead mate.

Benjamin T. Newman, the artist, has been urged to hang out his sign by the highway whereby strangers in town might become aware of his pretty little studio, overlooking the intervals, and be tempted to visit it for a glimpse of his oils and water colors and for an acquaintance with the man. An incident of a few days ago has convinced him of the value of his friends' argument. A passing auto chance to be stalled in front of his residence and the ladies in the party were invited in until a tire could be replaced. A visit to the studio was in order and when the party left, an hour later, Mr. Newman was the better off by the sale of several hundred dollars' worth of work.

NORTHEAST LOVELL.

Mrs. Clinton Milliken.
Mrs. Clinton Milliken of Portland died at her husband's parents' home, Saturday Sept. 25, at about 11 o'clock. She came here after her little girl who has been spending her vacation with her grandparents.
She didn't feel very well when she left home, but her husband being busy she thought it was her duty to come as her little girl's school was to commence soon. Soon after she reached here she was taken sick and they had the doctor from Waterford and as she grew worse they sent for her Portland doctor and everything was done that could be to keep her. Her death was caused by typhoid fever. She had certainly suffered long. She was only 34 years of age. The bearers were Orrington Rowe, John Kendall, Henry Hor and Vernice Harriman.
Rev. J. W. Card spoke words to comfort the family. George Eastman and Mr. Card sang two hymns, one was Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me, the other, Nearer, My God, to Thee.

The flowers were very pretty. There were some from L. L. Chipman and Mrs. M. J. Chipman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Starbird, Mrs. George Eastman and Isabelle Andrews and bouquets from lots of others, too many to mention.
She leaves a husband, two little children, a girl nine years old and a little boy five, and mother, brothers and lots of friends to mourn their loss. She was buried in Lovell, N. A. cemetery.

Mrs. Will Stanford is improving.
Isabelle Andrews has recently been to Boston.
Lots are planning to attend the North Waterford World's fair.

Mrs. Otis Andrews has been entertaining her daughter and two children. James R. Brackett has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Freeman Andrews.
Mrs. C. Andrews and son, Charles, have been visiting at G. H. Eastman's.
Mr. Arthur E. Stanford and wife, also George Stanford have recently been visiting their folks. Mr. and Mrs. Stanford.

ANDOVER.

He Gets the Case.
E. Milton Cutting of Andover is 35 years of age and the oldest resident of that town. Mr. Cutting was a guide at Richardson Lake for one man on all his trips covering a period of 40 years, and now he is remembered every fifth day with a present of a check for as many dollars as he is years old; his friends think this speaks eloquently for the man's character. His longevity is attributed to a hardy constitution, outdoor exercise and a simple, regular life.

Davis of Upton has a crew cutting pulp on the Noble Small farm.
Mrs. Nora Archibald of Boston has been the guest of Mrs. Milton Cutting.
Oscar Damon and wife with William Merrill and family furnished the supper for the North Agricultural ball, Oct. 5th.
B. L. Akers and wife and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hall spent Saturday and Sunday at the residence and the ladies in the party were invited in until a tire could be replaced. A visit to the studio was in order and when the party left, an hour later, Mr. Newman was the better off by the sale of several hundred dollars' worth of work.

William Gregg's auto was overturned Tuesday at North Rumford. Mr. Gregg was driving the car and turned out for mud hole. No one was injured. The top caught on the bushes and was demolished.
Frank Reynolds from Boston gave an entertainment Sunday evening at the town hall. The proceeds were to be divided, half to the Grange and half to Mr. Reynolds.

The King's Daughters met with Mrs. Olive Dresser, Thursday. They are having the hall cupola rebuilt for the placing of the town clock which they recently purchased. William Cushman has charge of the work.

LOVELL.

Charles Harriman is quite poorly, confined to his bed most of the time.
Mrs. Olive Barker is still at Stow, helping care for her father, O. B. Barrows.

Mrs. Laura Staples is keeping house for Mrs. Avis Stearns while she attends the Fryeburg fair.
John Stokes of Westbrook visited at C. E. Harriman's and attended Fryeburg and Waterford fairs.
Work will begin in Keniston's elder mill as soon as there are apples enough brought in. Henry Keniston will run it and wishes to finish before freezing weather.

Herbert M. Howes of Ridgeway is registered in the entering class at Bowdoin college. The University of Maine are Guy Westcott of Rumford and Edward G. Western of Fryeburg; in the entering class at Colby College: Spaulding Bicknell, Rumford; Edward David Hall, Fryeburg; Alwood Hunt, Elmer Horace Hussey, Genevieve Barker, Norway; Elmer Roy Bowker, Bryant's Pond.

The 59th Fryeburg Fair.

Tuesday the weather was decidedly damp, but it was a good rain for a fair, for it was so rainy that no one thought it possible to have a fair. A day that is threatening or a little rainy at times is the worst fair weather. The date of the opening of the West Oxford Fair was postponed on Wednesday and fine weather was the result, that day and the next. The weather-wise call them "weather breeders."

The special passenger scheduled for the fair from Portland that was to run the big day, Wednesday, was set forward one day, to Thursday. Two cattle show dances were given, one by the Red Men, the other by Pythian Sisterhood in Eastman's hall. As many as could find room to dance attended.

Perley S. Brown, who has sold tickets on the grounds for several years, is at Portland, where he has had an operation for appendicitis, and Seth F. Heald of Lovell sold tickets this year.
Every available room in town is occupied this week and the biggest crowd in the Society's history is here.

The academy, which was to close Wednesday and Thursday for the fair, will run until Wednesday night, when the sessions will be done for the week.
The academy, which was to close Wednesday and Thursday for the fair, will run until Wednesday night, when the sessions will be done for the week.

There is more live stock than usual on hand and the swine and poultry exhibits are larger than usual. F. W. Mason's Horses from Freedom are one of the largest and best exhibits down in the cattle sheds. S. E. Easton of Brownfield has the largest oxen yet entered. Town teams are numerous, Brownfield, Denmark and Hiram having two each and Porter, one.

Full blooded Jerseys—J. L. Pendexter Intervale, N. H.; C. W. Farrington, Fryeburg. Full blooded Jerseys—E. F. L. Denmark, R. W. Nason, Freedom, N. H. Grade Holsteins—O. Spring, Brownfield. Shorthorns—H. D. Harnden, East Fryeburg. Grade Ayrshires—J. E. Kneib, Hiram. Holsteins—Ernest Webster, Conway, N. H.

Among the poultry exhibitors, J. S. Gilpatrick of Hiram is a new man with some good breeds.
L. E. McIntire of Waterford judges the live stock and Mr. Davidson of Conway Center, the poultry.

In the stables are a goodly number of fine winners. There are also some with large fields of starters. H. H. Lee of Augusta acts as starter; also the judge of horses.
Visitors are tenting on the grounds and are enjoying the fair and a picnic at the same time. The midway is bristling with tents and vocal with fairs.

Wednesday the Portland and North Conway teams played baseball. Fryeburg and Westbrook play football, Thursday.
The third day will be grand excepted with a speaking program.
The hall has a bewildering amount of fancy and useful articles manufactured by the ladies. Mrs. Florence Gibson of Conway has decorated china; Hayford, the taxidermist, has more than usual of flying, walking and creeping wild things. The farm products are a credit to this section. Richard Patten, of Fryeburg, has a magnificent State Grange, will judge the hall exhibits.

Rachel Western, Fryeburg, some portraits in oil and studies in landscape; oil by Cary Bradley, Fryeburg.
Mr. L. P. Sawyer of Hiram a case of pigeons, homers; also a pair of Flemish rabbits. H. F. Lord, Denmark, shows bronze turkey and brown leghorns. James Sargent, Hiram, exhibits Pekin ducks. Fred Keniston, Fryeburg, Rhode Island Reds.

The usual manufacturing concerns are here, Brackett, Shaw & Lunt, with their machine engines; the International Harvester Co.; the Richardson Mfg. Co.'s tools and the Clark cutaway implements, among others.
Several pulling matches, judges being John Hodgdon and O. E. Spring of Brownfield.

Two-year-old steers—D. E. Jewett of Brownfield, 1st, 75 1/2 inches; G. H. Rankin of Hiram, 2d, 54 1/2 inches; C. V. Hartford of Hiram, 3d, 52 1/2 inches.
Three-year-old steers—L. R. Hartford of Porter, 1st, 216 feet; W. B. Deacey of Denmark, 2d, 213 feet; F. M. Garland of Brownfield, 3d, 105 feet.
Oxen, 6 feet 6 inches and under—S. E. Eaton of Brownfield, 1st, 108 feet; Reuben Smith of Denmark, 2d, 90 feet 9 inches; M. M. Seavey of Brownfield, 3d, 51 feet, 6 inches.
Oxen, 6 feet 10 inches and under—S. L. Plummer of Lovell, 1st, 50 feet; Porter Plummer of Denmark, 2d, 45 feet 3 inches; Bailey Colby of Denmark, 3d, 39 feet.

Oxen, 7 feet 2 inches and under—A. Thurston of Eaton, N. H., 1st, 75 feet 2 inches; S. E. Eaton of Brownfield, 2d, 51 feet 3 inches; G. H. Rankin of Hiram, 3d, 20 feet 6 inches.
Secretary B. W. McKenney and his two helpers, Mary Woodward and Len Charles have been kept busy. Wallace R. Tarbox had to give up his place of business, because of his critical illness and A. D. Merrill does this work. The marsh is Truman Stearns of Lovell.

Should Blood Tell?

I see in the items of the Advertiser, in the premium list, where a highly bred, thoroughbred was turned down this year at the fair and an inferior bred one wore off the blue ribbon. It is rather poor encouragement for those who are putting large sums of money into pure bred sires for the improvement of stock. We have looked upon the Agricultural Society as being a help to those who are trying to improve their stock. It does not look like help in this case. When a committee make such a decision as that without investigating, it looks as though there was something that was not right. I believe in better stock, and if we have it we have got to breed for it. Our country is full of cheap bred sires that are no improvement to our stock.

RYEBURG.

New Masonic Home. Pythagorean Lodge of Masons, which observed its hundredth anniversary a few years ago, on the 27th celebrated the opening of its new hall and worked degrees for the first time in quarters of its own. Dr. Seth C. Gordon of Portland, past grand commander of Maine, came up especially for the evening and was the chief speaker. Other speakers were J. A. Farrington of Lovell, ex-district deputy; Fred W. Powers of Portland, still a member of this lodge; D. A. Ballard, county commissioner; Seth F. Heald of Lovell.

Oysters, coffee and all kinds of pastry were served, the new dining room and equipment being used for the first time. This lodge will have a ladies' night soon in celebration of the completion of the hall.

Meetings have been held in it for many years, but it was always rented until by the will of E. J. Jennings, a wealthy resident of Ryeburg, this lot and building were turned over to Pythagorean lodge.

For several months the repairs have been in progress. The color scheme in red was worked out harmoniously. The furniture was made especially for the lodge and the upholstery, carpet and frescoing are very attractive. The ante-room has been enlarged and a new entrance arranged. The banquet hall, as well as the lodge room, has been remodeled, the total cost of repairs for date being over $2000. A sewer is yet to be entered and other work done.

Ryeburg people are especially interested in Peary's exploits at the far North, because, after he was graduated from Bowdoin college he spent several years in this lovely mountain village with his mother, Madam Perry, who was a sister of Mrs. Martha Nutter who used to own the grove, later known as Martha's grove, headquarters for the Methodist campmeetings and Chautauqua assemblies.

Lovers of good horse flesh never pass by the bay gelding owned by Wallace E. Tarbox of Ryeburg without a second glance. This is a Kentucky thoroughbred one of the famous pair once owned by Anna Held and valued at $3000, which took the blue ribbon for matched fancy pairs in two different seasons at the New York horse show. After the horses passed out of Anna's possession she died. The other one was sold soon after to Mr. Tarbox. The horse still bears the name applied to him by Miss Held, Aeterna, the name of the now dead mate.

Benjamin T. Newman, the artist, has been urged to hang out his sign by the highway whereby strangers in town might become aware of his pretty little studio, overlooking the intervals, and be tempted to visit it for a glimpse of his oils and water colors and for an acquaintance with the man. An incident of a few days ago has convinced him of the value of his friends' argument. A passing auto chanced to be stalled in front of his residence and the ladies in the party were invited in until a tire could be replaced. A visit to the studio was in order and when the party left, an hour later, Mr. Newman was the better off by the sale of several hundred dollars' worth of work.

NORTHEAST LOVELL.

Mrs. Clinton Milliken of Portland died at her husband's parents' home, Saturday, Sept. 25, at about 11 o'clock. She came here after her little girl who has been spending her vacation with her grandparents.

She didn't feel very well when she left home, but her husband being busy she thought it was her duty to come as her little girl's school was to commence soon.

Soon after she reached here she was taken sick and they had the doctor from Waterford and as she grew worse they sent for her Portland doctor and everything was done that could be to keep her. Her death was caused by typhoid fever. She has certainly suffered lots. She was only 34 years of age. The bearers were Orrington Rowe, John Kendall, Henry Horr and Vernice Harriman.

Rev. J. W. Card spoke words to comfort the family. George Eastman and Mr. Card sang the hymns, "O Jesus, Son of Saviour," "Pilot Me, the other, Nearer, My God, to Thee."

The flowers were very pretty. There were some from L. B. Chipman, Dr. M. J. Chipman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Starbird, Mrs. George Eastman and Isabelle Andrews and bouquets from lots of others, too many to mention.

She leaves a husband, two little children, a girl nine years old and a little girl five, and several brothers and lots of friends to mourn their loss. She was buried at Lovell, No. 4 cemetery.

Mrs. Will Stanford is improving.

Isabelle Andrews has recently been to Boston.

Lots are planning to attend the North Waterford World's fair.

Arthur E. Stanford and wife, also George Stanford have recently been visiting their folks. Mr. and Mrs. Stanford.

ANDOVER.

He Gets the Cane. E. Milton Cutting of Andover is 85 years of age and the oldest resident of that town. Mr. Cutting was a guide at Richardson Lake for one man on all his trips covering a period of 40 years, and now he is remembered every birthday with a present of a cane for as many dollars as he is years old; his friends think this speaks eloquently for the man's character. His longevity is attributed to a hardy constitution, outdoor exercise and a simple, regular life.

Davis of Upton has a crew cutting pulp on the Noble Small farm.

Mrs. Nora Archibald of Boston has been the guest of Mrs. Milton Cutting.

Oscar Dam and wife with William Mitchell and wife will furnish the supper for the North Agricultural ball, Oct. 5th.

Charles Clark of Hebron visited his niece, Mrs. Effie Davenport, taking in the Canton fair, Wednesday.

The 59th Fryeburg Fair.

Tuesday the weather was decidedly damp, but it was a good rain for a fair, for it was so rainy that no one thought of postponing the fair. A day that is threatening or a little rainy at times is the worst fair weather. The date of the opening of the West Oxford Fair was postponed till Wednesday and fine weather was the result, that day and the next. The weather-wise call them "weather brokers."

The special passenger scheduled for the fair from Portland that was to run the big day, Wednesday, was set forward one day, to Thursday. Two cattle-shows were given, one by the Red Men, and the other by the Pythian Sisters of the man's hall. As many as could find room to dance attended.

Perley S. Brown, who has sold tickets on the grounds for several years, is at Portland, where he has had an operation for appendicitis, and Seth F. Heald of Lovell sold tickets this year.

Every available room in town is occupied this week and the biggest crowd in the Society's history is here.

The academy, which was to close Wednesday and Thursday for the fair, will run until Wednesday night, when the sessions will be done for the week.

Douglas Volk, the New York artist, who is spending his summers at Hown Oaks in Lovell, has been a diligent helper at the fair.

The other granges are the Eaton from Chatham, N. H., and the Fryeburg Grange.

There is more live stock than usual on hand and the swine and poultry exhibits are larger than usual.

F. W. Nason's Herefords from Freedom are one of the largest and best exhibits down in the cattle sheds. S. E. Easton of Brownfield has the largest oxen yet entered. Town teams are numerous, Brownfield, Denmark and Hiram having two each and Portland, one.

Full blooded Jerseys—J. L. Pendexter of Intervale, N. H.; C. W. Farrington, Fryeburg. Full blooded Herefords—H. F. Lord, Denmark; F. W. Nason, Freedom, N. H. Grade Holsteins—C. Spryng, Fryeburg. Shorthorns—H. D. Hadden, East Fryeburg. Grade Ayrshires and Guernseys—Mr. Rankin, Hiram. Holsteins—Ernest Webster, Conway, N. H.

Among the poultry exhibitors, J. S. Gifford of Hiram is a new man with some good breeds.

L. E. McIntire of Waterford judges the live stock and Mr. Davidson of Conway Center, the poultry.

In the stables are a goodly number of fine horses. The special program included a penny song and a hymn with four children; a duet, "Be Kind," by Maynard Chase and Ivan Tuell, and song, "A Bluebird's Story," by Alice Barden besides several chorus pieces by the school.

She Knew the Day Well.

A poor little faded woman had been brought into court as witness in a case involving very important issues. The entire case depended on the fact that a paper had been signed on a certain day, and this the forlorn little woman was prepared to prove.

"You saw the paper signed?" asked the opposing counsel in cross examination.

"Yes, sir."

"And you take your oath that it was the 13th of August?"

"I know it was, sir."

The lawyer who thought another date could be proved assumed an exasperated smile and repeated her words.

"You know it was? And now be so good as to tell us how you know."

The poor little creature looked from one countenance to another with wide, sorrowful eyes, as if she sought understanding and sympathy; then her gaze rested on the kindly face of the judge.

"I know," she said, as if speaking to him alone, "because that was the day my baby died."

To Teach Women.

Two pictures are now being shown by electric railways to show women how to get off street cars. The objects in the picture are a car platform and step, a conductor and a woman. One picture shows the woman stepping off the car catching hold of the rear handle and facing to the rear, and it looks as if she was about to take a tumble. The other picture shows a woman stepping off the car in a correct manner, taking hold of the front handle and facing to the front as she alights on the ground.

It is a matter of conjecture whether or not the sight of these pictures will cure the average woman of the trick of facing to the rear when she alights from a car, but the results are shown so vividly that it is thought the pictures may be of some benefit. Hardly a car comes to a stop in any city but some woman, and men too, sometimes, can be seen swinging off in a wrong manner and some curious tumbles are oftentimes the result, particularly if the car has not been brought to a full stop or has started up again.

Of Football Interest.

Principal Change in Rules This Season Relates to Reduced Value of Place or Drop Kick.

Football coaches and others who have been following closely the modern trend of the game are unanimous in the belief that the coming season will witness some radical changes in the use of the forward pass, and that the perfecting of this play will either revolutionize the game or will cause the introduction of radically new rules. This conclusion is based on the fact that last year was the first since the coming of the forward pass that coaches, in the East at least, really seized and worked out the possibilities of this play.

When the forward pass was first legalized eastern coaches were almost unanimous in their opinion that the play had no future beyond its use as an occasional trick play. As a result the new offense was almost totally disregarded and during the first two years there were not a few championship games in which the play was used no more than once in a single half. So risky was it considered that coaches refused to try it in any formation until they had seen it successfully operated by some other team.

Another evidence of this spirit was that until last year the forward pass was operated by only one player. But during the past season there was an awakening to its possibilities. Coaches began to desire to have at least two men who could throw the ball and the play was greatly varied.

This variation is certain to be widely extended this fall, for now the forward pass will be to employ at least four men in handling the forward pass. And in this connection it must be stated that, other things being equal, any team that has a combination of good running backs, all of whom can operate the forward pass in a variety of plays, will have an offense that will raise havoc with pretty nearly any defense.

The perfection in this sort of a forward passing game is bound to bring about a condition of affairs similar to that which first resulted in the legalization of the play. The forward pass was made legal in order to weaken the defensive side of the game, which had grown too strong. When this condition becomes a reality the football rules committee will have another problem and the time is not far distant when they will be confronted once more with the situation of three years ago. A. A. Staggs, coach of the University of Chicago and a member of the rules committee has already gone to work on the record as of the opinion that the working out of the new possibilities with the forward pass will ultimately result in some new rules that will restrict the play in question.

Although the changes in the rules under which the game will be played this fall are not very radical compared with some of previous years, they are nevertheless of extreme importance. These changes, rather than being alterations in the game, tend to eliminate unfairness in the rules and to make the offense and defense more equal. The following are the important changes in the 1909 rules:

1. The value of a goal from field, whether place or a drop kick, is reduced from 4 to 3 points.

2. The side having a kick out has the option of making the kick as under the old rules, or putting the ball down for a scrimmage on their 25-yard line.

Anyone who has witnessed many games will recall instances in which the side kicking off, with the aid of the wind or an exceptionally strong kicker has been able to kick the ball over the goal line. This play robs the defending side of chance to properly protect their goal by giving the team that should have been on the defensive an opportunity to run back the kick off and put the ball in play by scrimmage within kicking distance of the opponent's goal. It also takes away from the offending side the opportunity to make a fair catch and then kick a goal from field.

The purpose of the committee in fixing a zone within which an end must stand to be eligible to receive the forward pass is for the benefit of the officials. This has been a numerous source of confusion in which touchdowns have been disallowed because the officials did not agree as to the position of an end in taking the forward pass. Inasmuch as it will not always be an easy matter for the officials to determine just what is the position of the end, there will probably be some conflicts of opinion about it, but the new rule will reduce them greatly.

Although the committee has been quick enough to make such changes in the rules as will simplify the work of the officials, they have been extremely slow to make changes to benefit the spectators. A case in point is their refusal to pass a rule compelling the players to be numbered according to their positions. The principal benefit to be derived from such a system would be that the spectators by reference to their programs would be able to identify their players.

Nowadays it is virtually impossible for one in the stands to recognize his own brother in helmet headgear and the other habiliments of modern football. This is the system that is followed in England, where the uniforms are extremely simple, and there is consequently much greater reason for such a system in this country.

How Government Keeps Down Fire.

The methods by which the government keeps down the losses on the National Forests include:

1. Constant and systematic patrol by picked forces of rangers and guards;

2. The construction of roads, trails, and telephone lines, which facilitate the massing of large fire-fighting forces;

3. The construction of fire lines which in some instances, check the speed of fire without human help;

4. The equipment of the forests with fire-fighting tools and other supplies necessary in fighting fires. The supplies of tools are kept at convenient points at all times, in order to have them easily accessible to Forest officers, in case fire break out;

5. Cooperation with railroads, timberland owners, and settlers in fire protection, in this way making it possible to protect both the lands of the companies and the Forest Service at a much smaller cost to the government than would be the case with the National Forests lands alone protected by the local officers.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt does not overstate the words of creation. She was speaking recently of another prominent woman who is somewhat lukewarm in the suffrage cause. "The trouble with Mrs. Blank," said Mrs. Catt, "is that she is fairly worshipful of the cat. She thinks that he is absolutely perfect. Why, the woman actually believes that the parrot taught him to swear."

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female troubles, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but my operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am a well woman."

EMMA DRAPEL

Another Operation Avoided.

Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a doctor again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."

ALYVENA SEERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result may save you millions to many suffering women.

The South Pole.

Blizzard Kept Shackleton From Reaching It.

Lieutenant Shackleton, in an article in the October McClure's on his South Pole expedition, says:

"On January 6, we camped in a blizzard with high drift in latitude 88 degrees 77 seconds south. The wind rose during the night, and for the next sixty hours it was blowing with a force of seventy or eighty miles an hour, the temperature at times being as low as 70 degrees of frost. The situation was serious, for not only was our advance being stopped, but there was doubt as to whether the sledging track and flags would remain to guide us back to the depot upon which our lives depended. During the sixty hours we had many times to restore the circulation in one another's feet, for the temperature inside the worn and torn tent, which had now to contain the whole party, was just about the same as in the open air, and the snow drifted in all the time. As those dark hours went on, we prayed for a cessation of the blizzard, and at 1 a. m. on January 9 it began to break.

"The blizzard had done its work, however, and we recognized that we had just about reached our limit. We got up at 2 a. m. and at 4 a. m. were away for a final march southward, with our mail, sleds, instruments, and a queen's flag with a bamboo rod for a staff.

"Half running, half walking, we made the last march, in latitude 88 degrees 23 seconds south, we hoisted the Union Jack. We could do no more, for to go far her meant abandoning all hopes of getting back to our base.

"The Pole, though only ninety-nine geographical miles away, was impossible for us to attain."

The Addition to County Buildings.

The addition to the county buildings at South Paris, the new law library, is nearing completion and the contract for its completion will be the opening of the October term of court, thereafter the work will be rushed right along. The addition is two stories high, both 30 by 30 feet. The upper floor will consist of the library with toilet rooms for the attorneys and will connect directly with the retiring room of the court room. On the lower floor will be the jail kitchen, pantry, the serving room, store house and two toilets, one of the help and the other for the stenographers of the main building.

The new building is 28 by 32 feet and will be fire proof throughout. In fact every part of the addition will be fire proof and will be connected with the old part by fire proof doors. The furniture of the library will be steel and the library stacks will also be of steel. The entire work will cost between $14,000 and $15,000. The finish of the second story will be in oak wood and North Carolina pine will be the finish of the lower floor. The toilet for the attorneys will be all marble.

The corridor on the lower floor will connect the kitchen directly with the jail. The floors of the lower floor will be granolithic throughout with a concrete base. The floor of the library will be single top birch. There will be an indirect heating system for the addition and the lighting will be a full conduit system with concealed wiring.

The J. W. Burrows Company of Portland are the general contractors. Crompton and Gibbs of Lewiston are architects in charge. English & Doolittle of Lewiston are installing the plumbing and heating apparatus and York and Boothby of Portland the electric wiring.

Jack Could Read.

"Miss Molly," the pleasant-faced teacher of the Vernon school, was having great difficulty teaching Jack to read. The new word was "cow" and she had exhausted her usual devices. At last, in reviewing the word, she pointed to a large letter on one part of the blackboard and in small letters at another place. Pointing to the large word she said: "Now, Jack, this is a cow."

Then placing her pointer on the small word, she asked, "Jack, what is this word?"

Quick-as-a-flash came the response: "Miss Molly, Miss Molly, it must be a cow."

One inch of rain fell Sunday.

How Farm Cooking has Changed.

Not many days ago a prominent farmer in a leading agricultural section complained to the writer that the art of cookery was being neglected and forgotten in his neighborhood.

"This county," he said, "used to be noted everywhere for its good cooking, but nowadays the less said about it the better." It would be easy to guess that this was only another tribute to "the doughnuts that mother used to make," but a thorough knowledge of the situation makes it seem that there is some real foundation for the complaint of the old farmer.

It is a fact that a very large percentage of the best country girls in recent years have not learned cookery. At least they have not learned schools and colleges, the way their mothers did. They have gone to normal schools and prepared themselves for teaching; some have studied music; some have gone to college; some have become trained nurses. Anyone who has any dealings by mail with any country neighborhood can quickly count up and see how many of the smartest girls have gone into these fields, and it will give powerful support to the notion that farm cookery is not what it used to be.

In another sense, we may easily see that farm cooking has changed. This other change is doubtless for the better. It comes through the introduction of many ready-cooked and ready-prepared foods. The farmers nowadays patronize the grocery store for canned goods and package groceries to an extent which was formerly unknown. The result, which on the whole, represents a welcome improvement in kitchen economies. The way in which farm tables used to be overloaded with heavy meat dishes, pickles, preserves, two kinds of pie and four kinds of cake was sometimes a scandal, and always a menace to good health. If the farmers' wives have learned to cook less, to serve simpler meals, and to relieve their tables by buying ready-prepared eatables from the grocery, the change cannot be regarded as an unmixed evil.

The Long Topcoat a Fad.

Coming to the topcoat—a most important item of tailored wear this fall—is one fairly puzzled whether to put one's winter coat allowance into one of these fetching and swagger garments, or to buy a pair of breeches. Coats in both styles are shown; one a model of diagonal serge with cuffs and lapels of moire silk and the new big belt, the other a superb Bernard model of forest green cloth with skunk bands for trimming and big green buttons set in black rims—a topcoat that might well answer for evening wear over theater gowns.

A Soloviet topcoat is of the rough homespun which is flecked with white, a material extremely fashionable for these heavy coats. This Soloviet model has a panel in three sections at the back, and two of the sections come around to the front in wide stitched belts, which fasten with huge carbuncle buttons. The general tone of this homespun coat is a tawny smoke color, and the buttons show deep blue glazes, which are accented by the gray-blue rever facing the cuffs.

Many of the topcoats have a panel of pleating set in below the waist at the back, which seems to foretell indisputably the coming of much fuller skirts.

Esquimo Graves of Stones.

To the Eskimo mind everything animate or inanimate possesses a soul. Thus, in their graves we found they invariably placed beside the departed soul, their spirits might serve the departed spirit in the same capacities in the life to come. There is little room for burial beneath the scanty earth in Labrador, even if the frost would permit it. So the grave consists of upright stones, with long, flat ones laid across. These not only serve to keep the wolves from the body, but wide chinks also afford the spirits free passage in and out.

Rev. E. B. Barber of Norwood, Mass., formerly of Gardiner, has received a call to become the pastor of the Universalist church at Rumford.

Facts About the Potato.

The largest potato-growing county in the United States is Aroostook county, Maine. The largest potato-growing state is New York. Maine is second, and stands a good chance of being first within a few years.

The other potato states, in the order of their importance, are: Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and Nebraska.

In 1908 Maine's average yield to the acre was 225 bushels; that for the other states, as follows: New York 82, Wisconsin 78, Michigan 78, Ohio 77, Minnesota 70, Michigan and Pennsylvania 72, Illinois 71.

The average Maine yield for the past ten years has been nearly double that of the other nine states named above.

The total yield in bushels for each of the potato states, in 1908, was: New York $4,529,000, Maine 26,100,000, Michigan 28,499,000, Wisconsin 20,100,000, Pennsylvania 18,944,000, Ohio 19,600,000, Iowa 14,250,000, Illinois 11,080,000, Minnesota 11,020,000, Nebraska 7,100,000.

Maine now hangs out her crimson and gold.

Deer Cautious and Intelligent.

In spite of the occasional surprising boldness of deer, especially in the autumn, always at upon the theory of their extreme timidity and cautious intelligence. No hunter lying in wait for deer likes to have any other animal or even a bird approach his ambush.

There are those who profess to believe that there is an understanding for mutual protection between wild creatures, but it is a good deal more likely that deer draw conclusion from the conduct of birds and beasts rather than that there is any direct method of communication between the deer and other denizens of the woods. A hunter lying in wait for a deer was discovered by a crow and the crow of the bird at the sight of the man sent the deer lying near because the crow was intended to give the beast notice of danger but because in the experience of the deer the call of the lone crow usually indicates the presence of something unusual and the unusual may be dangerous.

Stalking deer is a game which many most delicate of woodland arts, depending for success upon minute acquaintance with the habits of the animal, a knowledge of the stream and great skill in handling both craft and paddle. The hunter must know the parts of the stream in which he is likely to encounter his game, the marks of the deer's recent presence and the topography of the stream and the country through which it flows.

If he means to shoot off a photograph he must have a companion who handles the paddle, the weapon or the camera. The task is more delicate with the camera than with the rifle, since the hunter is such that some sort of flashlight must be used to photograph the game and the rifle is a more certain instrument than the camera. An ingenious but illegal method improvement on the old-fashioned back for night hunting is a rifle with a flashlight attached which dazzles the deer, excites his curiosity and delays his flight for the precious instant that the hunter needs.

Bird and beast join to make canoe stalking uncertain business. The expectation is that the hunter's object among the sunset hour when wild things of many kind begin to be active.

Sometimes it is a foolish mother duck that flutters for many yards in front of the canoe under the impression that her brood is the hunter's object. Sometimes a beaver rises in front of the noiseless canoe and floats off advertising to the wilderness that something strange is on the stream. Even the muskrat's sudden escape at sight of the boat may be enough to arouse the fears of the deer.

Hunters truly believe that the deer with all its timidity and intelligence does not observe a stationary boat and its occupants, provided there is nothing marked in the coloring of either. Thus a canoe of about the same color of the foliage along the banks of the stream does not fix the attention of the deer unless it looks up when the boat is actually moving. The practiced deer-stalker knows too that a deer at pasture along the bank of the stream, or among the lily pads cannot see an approaching object as long as it has its head down. A deer thus feeding lifts its head every few minutes to look out for danger and at such moments the approaching canoe must be stationary.

The first hunter reported shot this season was Carroll H. Austin of Turner, who was shot by Albie Mitchell, a companion. One of the shots entered the thigh, one the lobe of the right ear and the third shot penetrated his right eye. The episode was reported as purely accidental, but they all are.

Improvements.
Improvements seem to be the order of the day. A fine chapel organ, the best the Betsy Co. of Boston make, has been ordered for the Congregational church. It was given by the grand old and great-grandchildren of the late Samuel Tyler, assisted by other relatives and friends.

The Universalist church has undergone extensive repairs, which greatly add to the comfort of those worshipping there.

L. M. Giles is making extensive repairs on his buildings besides having in process of erection a fine house for his own occupancy.

The summer guests have nearly all departed.

It is expected that the Union Conference will be held here Oct. 27-28.

Rev. S. M. Albanian, who has been serving the Congregational church since June, 1908, and during whose stay many improvements have been made, is about leaving for Massachusetts.

Bryant's Pond Shoot.

The annual meet of the Maine State Rifle Association last week was a great success in every way.

E. E. Doten of Lewiston won the National Sportsman's Cup in a 50-shot match, his score being 399. D. B. Sedgely of Phillips was second with 394 points and T. Radcliffe of West Paris, third, with 387.

In the re-entry match, cash prizes, 200 yard target, 10-shot contest, M. L. Mower of Auburn won first prize, $5, with 88 points; D. B. Sedgely, second, $3, 86 points; Thomas Radcliffe, third, $2, 84 points; and A. L. Bowker, fourth, $1, with 83 points.

The results of the Merchandise Match, 25 shots, were as follows: D. B. Sedgely, first, 202, prize, Remington rifle; H. E. Doten, second, 199, prize, Winchester rifle; Thomas Radcliffe, third, 194, prize, Savage rifle; and A. W. Arnett, fourth, 191, prize, 2000 rounds ammunition; M. L. Mower, fifth, 185, prize, 2000 rounds ammunition; D. J. Mann, sixth, 181, prize, revolver.

The club shoot for the Maine Woods Cup, the Bryant's Pond Rifle Club was victorious, with a total of 715 points. Auburn Rifle Club was second with 659 points and Livermore Falls Rifle Club, third, with 542 points.

The score of the winning team was as follows:

Now the Real Battle.

The explorers are at home and the welcomes have been extended. But it cannot be said that it is all over but the shouting. The real battle is about to commence. Some think it will be hot enough to melt all the ice in the Arctic regions. It is stated that during the coming week Commander Peary will give to the world the reasons for his assertion that Dr. Cook never saw the North Pole.

That is the proper course. Commander Peary has made charges that his rival is an impostor. Such charges should be supported with proof without delay. They are too serious to be left without such support. Let the evidence be placed before the world. It will be awaited with interest.

Such a controversy was never waged before. Two men came out of the frozen North at the same time, each claiming to have reached the Pole. That Peary was there is certain. That Cook was there would be accepted without question had not Commander Peary issued his challenge.

As it is, fair minded people who know little about Arctic exploration are waiting with open minds to weigh the evidence presented. In justice to both men that evidence should be forthcoming.—[Sunday Times.]

Hunting for Big Game.

The Highlands of Ontario is an ideal spot for the sportsman during the open hunting season for big game. In the Temagami region moose are plentiful and may be killed during the period from October 15th to November 15th. This territory is a forest preserve of vast extent, and in addition to being the hunter's paradise, its waters abound with game fish of many species. The home of the red deer is located somewhat to the south of Temagami, particularly in the districts known as "Muskegon Lakes," "Lake of Rays," "Maganetawan River," "Lake Nipissing," and "Kawartha Lakes" territories.

Write to J. Quinlan, G. P. A., Montreal, for a copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game." Issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System which fully describes the hunting territories reached by this line, giving game laws, maps and all information.

Coat Over a Separate Wool Skirt.

Returning to the economy combination of the tailored suit, with its garments, a third variation may be affected with a trig walking skirt of checked or invisibly striped material over which the long coat will look very smart of a morning. This outfit, with a supply of pretty blouse—some of trucked satin or fancy silk, some of white lilies or madras, and at least two of chiffon and net—will give the little bride a very satisfactory supply of garments for various occasions.

Fryeburg Academy.

Fryeburg Academy opened Tuesday what promises to be the most prosperous year of its history. The school opened with a large number of pupils, which the pupils were assigned to their classes and lessons were given out for the next day. The pupils are especially interested in the new course in manual training and agriculture. There are also many to take the business course.

The teachers are: Ridgely C. Clark, headmaster and teacher of mathematics; Sarah Locke Willard, Latin; Susan Walker Merrill, English; Benjamin T. Newman, manual training, drawing and painting; George Haley, science and agriculture; Alberta M. Abbott, music; Ruth J. Cummings, modern language and history; Anne Spring, business course.

The new pupils are, seniors: Winfield Lewis. Juniors: Leon W. Dunbar, Ruby Lowell, Bartlett, N. H.; Ernest Richardson, Conway, N. H.

Sophomores and freshmen: Rexford Seavey, Guy Smith, Gladys Smith, North Conway; Agnes Warren, Conway; Ella C. Frausing, Herbert L. Willey, Fryeburg; Robert L. Flint, North Fryeburg; Edna A. Chase, Ralph W. Twombly, Guy C. Mason, Conway Center; Elsie Abbott, Rachel Atkinson, Agnes Ballard, Fryeburg; Viola Benton, Ralph Hurd, Lovell; John M. Unlike all Gaul all veils may be divided into four parts: chiffon, net, chenille dotted and lace. The first division is somewhat interchangeable, for chiffon veils may be worn with almost any costume although, of course, when they are to appear with lingerie gown, the veil should be light in color. The second division, net veils, may also be worn as one sees fit, though they should not be used with a plain costume and a strictly "sailor hat."

To wear with a lingerie hat and a typical summer gown, one must either have a light chiffon veil or else a veil of white lace. One can see at a glance why these two are the best choice, for they both soften the lines and go toward making the summer girl what she is in song and story. Lately some of the smart women have been wearing white lace veils upon the street with afternoon costumes, in which case they are fastened back tightly, for such a running in the face of accepted rules is a bad, and must be done correctly or not at all.

FRYEBURG.

Thomas Ward has been visiting his parents and brother.

W. H. Tarbox has had a severe surgical operation at his home.

Marion Wilson has returned from The Bahamas, where she spent a few days.

Jeanette Lord has gone to John Hopkins hospital to study for the profession of nurse.

Dr. Q. C. Walker and his cousin, Edna Eastman, drove to Bridgton and visited Judge Walker and wife.

Perley Brown, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Maine General hospital, is getting along well.

Robie Evans is at home from the wilds of Maine, for a few days before returning to his studies at Yale University.

Anna Barrows has returned to her duties in New York as teacher of Domestic Science. Stuart Barrows spent Sunday at home.

Hon. W. W. Towle and family of Boston recently spent a few days at the old home on Portland street. Mrs. Livingston and little son visited him over Sunday.

Stella Eames and friend, Miss Mowry of Lowell, Mass., both Wellesley '10ers, spent the week-end at her uncle's, T. L. Eastman's, and called on other relatives in town.

Fannie Tibbetts entertained a party of ladies on Monday afternoon at her lovely home on Main street. Dainty refreshments of tea, sandwiches of various kinds, cakes and confections were served.

The Congregational circle was entertained, Thursday evening, at the farmhouse of George Walker, three miles from the village. Between fifty and sixty people were present, being conveyed by single and double teams, buckboard, automobile. After a social hour supper was announced and all did ample justice to the bountiful display of appetizing food. The table decorations were unusual for the time of year, being bouquets of lovely apple blossoms, the second flowering of the trees, the first having been destroyed by worms. During the evening piano solos were given by Jessie Walker, Charlotte Hodsdon and Edna Eastman.

NORTH WATERFORD.

You can save money in getting your shoes of Geo. W. Downing at the fair this week. For prices see ad. You can get shoes all the year round of Downing at his home in Norway.

Summer visitors should take an occasional trip to Maine during September and October in order to get acquainted with the superior qualities of what we have to offer in the way of weather.

Haley's comet is on the way, but it is doubtful if it sheds any light on the Pole question.

$3.75 Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker and a complete assortment of MOTHER'S CEREALS - all for $2.84

The Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker actually cooks without fuel. It solves the servant problem, the fuel problem and the delayed dinner problem. It saves 80% of your present coal or gas bills, and 90% of your present kitchen worries. When you own a Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker, you simply place your oatmeal (or anything else that you want to prepare) on the stove, bring it to a boiling point, remove, place in Fireless Cooker, put the pad in position, tug the draw-string, and go to bed. While you're sleeping, the food will keep cooking itself. Nothing can boil over or burn or spoil. During the day you can start soup or joints or vegetables, place them in the Cooker, visit your neighbor, go to the matinee, or shop, without any thought of a hot, stuffy kitchen range.

Now, there is only one way that you can get a Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker, unless you want to go to a store and pay $3.75 for it, and that is by being a user of Mother's Cereals, the best cereals, prepared in the largest mills, and sold everywhere by the best dealers in every town. In every package we place a coupon, and when you have 125 coupons we'll send you the $3.75 Fireless Cooker for nothing. If you want a Fireless Cooker in a hurry, you can either buy ten packages of MOTHER'S OATS or any other Mother's Cereals, and get the Cooker immediately by paying $1.15 in cash or upon the following basis:

- 50 coupons and $.75 cash
- 35 coupons and .90 cash
- 25 coupons and 1.00 cash
- 15 coupons and 1.10 cash
- 10 coupons and 1.15 cash

But the best way of all is to go to your grocer and ask him to supply you with which contains a complete assortment of different delicious cereals for every palate and for every meal. Not only is it an advantage to buy your staple cereals in sufficient quantity at attractive prices (just as it's cheaper to buy flour by the barrel or butter by the crock) but in every Mother's Kit there is in addition to the saving of quite a considerable sum of money, a special Fireless Cooker Certificate, equal to eighteen coupons, which, when added to the coupons from the packages in the kit, enables you to secure a Cooker by merely adding 89 cents. A Mother's Kit consists of eighteen assorted packages of Mothers Cereals, packed in sanitary sealed packages, in which they are guaranteed to keep in perfect condition indefinitely.

- 8 packages of Mother's Oats, standard size
- 2 packages of Mother's Yellow Corn Meal
- 1 package of Mother's White Corn Meal
- 1 package of Mother's Wheat Flakes
- 1 package of Mother's Corn Flakes (Toasted)
- 1 package of Mother's Old-Fashioned (Toasted) Cut Oatmeal
- 2 packages of Mother's Granulated Hominy
- 2 packages of Mother's Coarse Pearl Hominy

This Kit can be purchased at your grocer's by simply paying $1.95 (a little more at distant points). The grocer himself will either redeem your coupons and deliver the $3.75 Fireless Cooker, or, if you so desire, send the coupons and 89c directly to us and we will ship the cooker to you, express collect.
